Sponsorship Opportunities

Welcome

On behalf of the European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology (ECCN) organising committee, we extend a warm welcome to you as potential sponsors for the upcoming European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology, scheduled to be hosted in the vibrant city of Málaga, Spain in October 2027.

The Spanish Society of Clinical Neurophysiology (SENEC) and the Spanish Society of Neurological Electrodiagnosis (SELECNE), in collaboration with the European, Middle East and Africa Chapter (EMEAC) of the International Federation of Clinical Neurophysiology (IFCN) will host ECCN 2027. Our theme "FROM NEURONAL CIRCUITS TO CLINICAL PRACTICE" celebrates the rich heritage of scientific discovery and advances in the field of clinical neurophysiology in the historical venue of Palacio de Ferias y Congresos de Málaga (FYCMA), Málaga. Topics will include highlights in Clinical Neurophysiology from past, present and future in neonates and adults.

The ECCN is a premier gathering of leading experts from Europe, Middle East and Africa, including researchers, clinicians, and industry professionals in the field of clinical neurophysiology, representing a unique platform to exchange knowledge, showcase innovations, and advance the understanding and practice of clinical neurophysiology. By choosing to partner with us as sponsors, you are not only aligning your brand with excellence and innovation in neurophysiology but also demonstrating your commitment to advancing healthcare and improving patient outcomes.

Thank you for considering sponsorship of the European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology. Together, we can create a memorable and impactful ECCN 2027 that will inspire, educate, and empower neurophysiology professionals for years to come.

Warm regards,

Susana Santiago-Pérez

General Information

The European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology (ECCN) provides a conducive environment for networking with key decision-makers, researchers, and practitioners in the field. Exhibitors can establish valuable connections, initiate collaborations, and engage in meaningful discussions with potential clients and partners.

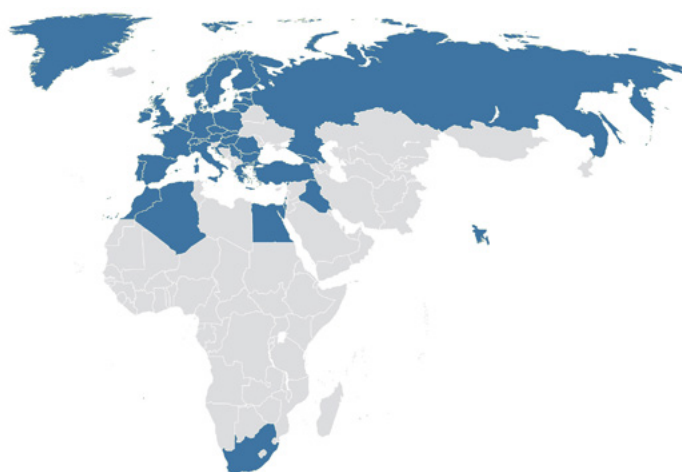

By sponsoring the European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology, your organisation will:

- Have priority to choose the sponsorship option that best fits your marketing objectives.
- Gain maximum exposure amongst the anticipated 1,000+ ECCN 2027 Congress delegates.
- Be present during the 4-day programme, giving you the ability to foster a longer-term relationship rather than one-off meeting.
- Secure your spot among a select group of premier sponsors—placing your brand front and center for every attendee.
- Benefit from face-to-face brand exposure, raising the profile of your products and services amongst a relevant and influential audience within an informal and informative environment.
- Compete amongst your peers, showcasing your company's leadership in the field of neurophysiology.

Location

FYCMA, the Trade Fairs and Congress Center of Málaga, is one of Spain's leading venues for large-scale exhibitions, congresses, and professional events. Located in the dynamic Mediterranean city of Málaga, the center offers more than 60,000 square meters of modern, flexible space designed to support international business activity, innovation, and collaboration. Exhibitors benefit from two expansive exhibition halls totaling 17,000 square meters, along with auditoriums for 900 and 600 attendees and a range of modular meeting rooms that accommodate both small sessions and mid-sized conferences. The venue's high ceilings, strong floor load capacity, and extensive technical infrastructure allow exhibitors to build impactful stands and host specialized installations with ease. FYCMA provides high-capacity WiFi, advanced audiovisual systems, and access to essential utilities such as electricity, water, drainage, and compressed air, ensuring seamless setup and operation throughout the event. The center also includes a business area, catering services, press facilities, and 1,200 on-site parking spaces, all designed to enhance the exhibitor and attendee experience.

Situated in an urban area with transport connections, FYCMA benefits from Málaga's international airport, extensive hotel network, and vibrant cultural environment. Exhibitors choose FYCMA for its combination of modern infrastructure, strong visitor flow, sustainability-focused operations, and its reputation as a key business hub in southern Europe. The venue's scale, technology, and strategic location create an environment where exhibitors can maximize visibility, generate meaningful leads, and build long-term partnerships.

Firewall Statement

The 20th European Congress of Clinical Neurophysiology (ECCN 2027) maintains a strict promotional firewall to protect the integrity, independence, and scientific quality of all educational and research activities. This firewall ensures that sponsorship, marketing, and commercial interests do not influence scientific program development, abstract review, speaker selection, editorial decisions, or any other scientific content.

The ECCN 2027 Scientific Advisory Council operates independently. Sponsors, exhibitors, and commercial partners have no role in evaluating abstracts, selecting speakers, determining session topics, or shaping scientific conclusions. All scientific decisions are made solely by appointed committee members based on merit, relevance, and scientific rigor.

Access to confidential scientific materials is restricted. Promotional staff, sponsors, and vendors do not receive unpublished abstracts, scoring data, committee minutes, or draft program content. Communications with sponsors are handled exclusively by the sponsorship team; scientific committees do not engage in promotional discussions.

Sponsorship benefits are transparent and limited to contracted deliverables. Branding, exhibit space, and industry-supported sessions are clearly identified as promotional. These activities do not influence or intersect with peer-reviewed scientific content.

The ECCN 2027 enforces this firewall through documented policies, role separation, and staff training. Any attempt to influence scientific content through promotional channels is prohibited and may result in corrective action, including modification or withdrawal of sponsorship privileges.

This firewall reflects the ECCN 2027's commitment to scientific integrity, ethical standards, and the trust of its global community.

Topics

Clinical Neurophysiology in Ataxia and Cerebellar Disorders: Diagnosis, Disease Monitoring and Therapeutic Evaluation

Artificial Intelligence, Digital Biomarkers and Big Data in Clinical Neurophysiology: From Diagnosis to Personalized Patient Care

Autonomic Nervous System Dysfunction in various diseases: neurophysiological Assessment and Treatment Monitoring

Brain Stimulation and Neuromodulation: Neurophysiological Mechanisms, Patient Selection and Evaluation of Therapeutic Outcomes

Brainstem and Cranial Nerve Disorders: Advanced Neurophysiological Diagnosis and Functional Monitoring

Cognitive Disorders: Neurophysiological Biomarkers for Early Diagnosis, Assessment of Progression and Treatment Options

Connectomics and Neuronal Networks: Neurophysiological Approaches to Understanding Brain Function and Disease

EEG and MEG in Neurological Disorders: Diagnostic Advances, Disease Course Monitoring and Therapeutic Guidance

EMG, Nerve Conduction Studies and Peripheral Nerve Physiology: From Diagnosis to Treatment and Follow-Up

Epilepsy and Epilepsy Surgery: Neurophysiology-Guided Diagnosis, Monitoring and Precision Therapy

Evoked Potentials and Sensory CNS Integration: Diagnostic Applications and Functional Outcome Assessment

Clinical Neurophysiology Guidelines and Standards of Care: Improving Diagnosis, Treatment Pathways and Patient Outcomes

Intraoperative Neurophysiological Monitoring: Improving Surgical Safety and Functional Outcomes

Motor Control and Movement Disorders: Neurophysiological Biomarkers, Diagnosis and Treatment Monitoring

Myopathies and Neuromuscular Transmission Disorders: Neurophysiological Diagnosis, Evaluation of the Effectiveness of Emerging Therapies

Neurocritical Care: Continuous Neurophysiological Monitoring, Prognostication and Treatment Guidance

Neuromuscular Imaging and Ultrasound: Integrating Structural and Functional Assessment in Diagnosis and Follow-Up

Wearable Devices and Remote Neurophysiological Monitoring: Digital Biomarkers for Disease Detection and Long-Term Management

Neurorehabilitation: Neurophysiological Assessment, Brain-Computer Interfaces and Recovery Monitoring

Pain and Small Fiber Neuropathies: Advanced Neurophysiological Diagnosis and Therapeutic Response Evaluation

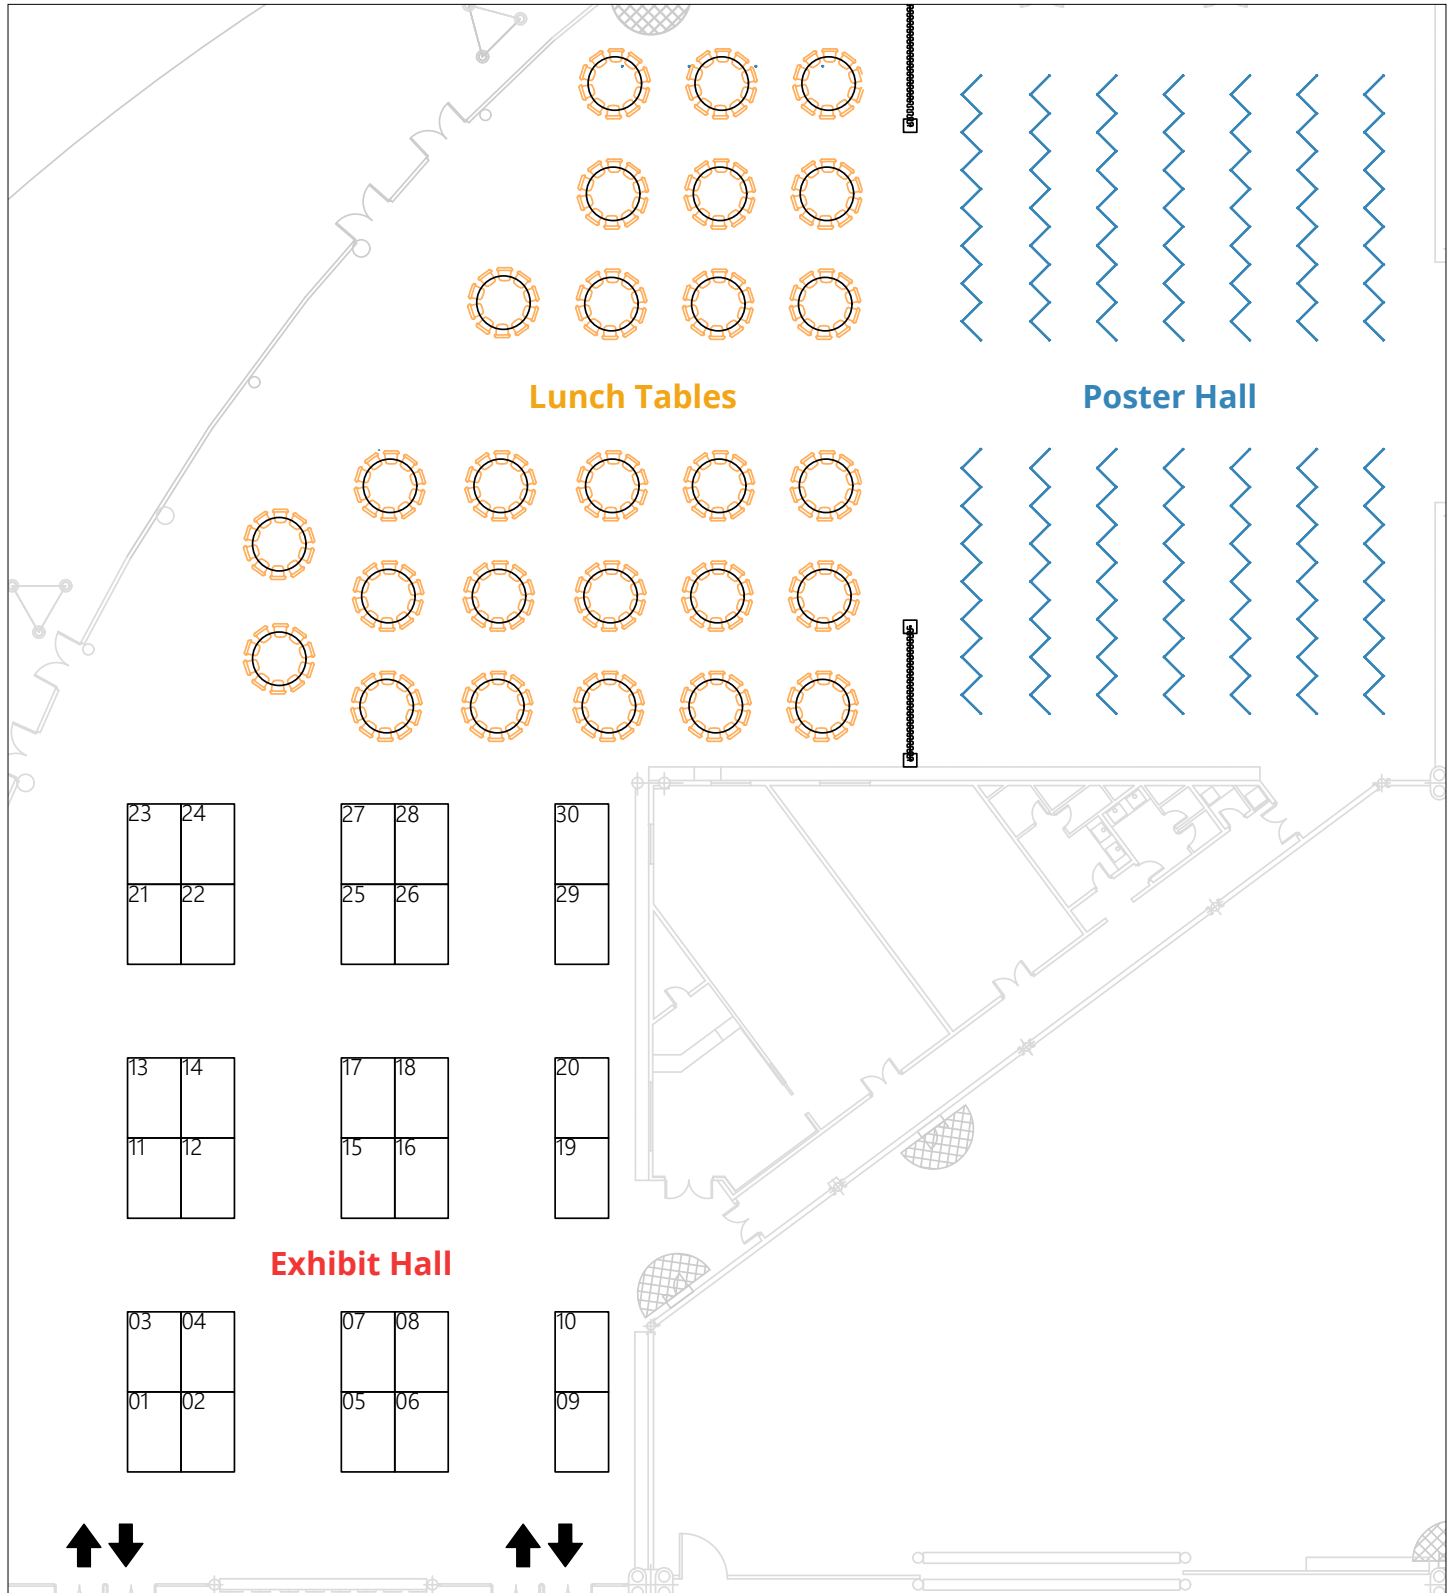

Pediatric and Neonatal Neurophysiology: Early Diagnosis, Developmental Monitoring and Long-Term Outcomes

Signal Processing, Computational Neurophysiology and Brain-Computer Interfaces: Transforming Neurophysiological Data into Clinical Applications

Sleep Disorders and Disorders of Consciousness: Neurophysiological Biomarkers, Monitoring and Therapeutic Decision-Making
